She is under orders to proceed at once to Turkish waters to join the cruiser "Montana" and "North Carolina." The first captain of the rebuilt ship will be Commander Spencer S. Wood, U. S. N.

While the New York now is not compared with the newly built, larger and more powerful cruisers, still she is a fast ship and one not to be ignored by any enemy she may come in contact with. She has been fitted with new guns that are far more formidable than those in place when she served as Admiral Sampson's flagship off Santiago.

COMMON COUNCIL A THING OF PAST SOON

Assembly Committee Will Report Whitehead Bill Favorably--Many Cities Want Commissions.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., May 14.—Within a year from this time a considerable number of Wisconsin cities will have abolished their common councils and boards of aldermen and established the commission form of municipal government. This was made certain practically beyond peradventure when Chairman Estabrook of the assembly committee on cities announced that the Whitehead bill as passed by the senate had met with the unanimous approval of the committee on cities to which it was referred for consideration. So well did the senate committee do its work on this measure, that the assembly committee after mature consideration of the subject, has determined not to propose a single amendment and will on Saturday morning report the bill to the assembly with a recommendation for passage. The assembly committee learned in the course of its deliberations that a number of Wisconsin cities are awaiting the enactment of the law so that they will at the first opportunity vote upon the adoption of the commission form of local government in place of the present common council form, and the prospect is so strong as to constitute a certainty that many cities will expeditiously adopt the new plan of government of municipalities. The bill provides for local elections to be held upon poll-books of 25 per cent of the voters, to decide the question of adopting the commission plan. If the affirmative carries, then the city so voting shall for six years be governed by a commission, and after the trial of the new method for the question of going back to the old form of government the commission plan is found wanting. The commission plan is government by a board of three commissioners, elected by the mayor and two councilmen at large, each holding office for six years, but the terms of each expiring at different times. These commissioners are to exercise the powers now exercised by common councils. Substantial salaries are provided on the theory that the commissioners shall be able men and shall devote themselves exclusively to their city work.

Premier Asquith gave his cordial support to the objects of the bill.

CAPITOL WILL NOT BE HASTILY PUT UP

Assemblymen Do Not Believe Treasury Funds Will Warrant Rushing of Work.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., May 14.—Belling that the funds in the state treasury will not warrant a hasty construction of the new capitol building, nearly ten amendments have been offered to the bill introduced to accomplish that purpose. The measure has been made a special order for next Tuesday. It now seems altogether probable the capitol building law will remain as it was enacted two years ago. Assemblyman Meritt Hull of Black River Falls has offered an amendment to strike out that portion of the new bill, which would permit an expenditure of $1,000,000 in any one fiscal year to hasten the construction of the building. Assemblyman Haight would not have the dome of the old capitol taken down to the university and placed on main hall without the mutual consent of the legislature and the members of the board of university regents. Assemblyman Kay has an amendment to strike out the portion of the bill for removing the dome to the main hall altogether.

One feature of the bill has not met no objections. That is the clause which will permit the construction of walks in the capitol grounds and the completion of the terraces. A rider to this amendment would empower the capitol building commission to select paint and furnishings for the new building, but an amendment offered by Assemblyman Hull would strike this provision out.

The old law provided that the cost of any one wing should not exceed $500,000. The new bill proposes to strike this provision of the bill out, which was incorporated in the law two years ago after a long debate. Both Ingram and Hull have offered amendments to the bill which would limit this feature of the old law. It is argued that this limit would prevent extravagance in any form. The new bill, while removing the limit of costs on the wings, provides that the total cost of construction of the entire building shall not exceed the original estimate of $5,000,000. This provision of the bill will be the subject of considerable discussion.

The old law limited the cost per cubic foot of construction and the new bill proposes to limit the cost per cubic foot of construction. The bill will elicit a general discussion of the cost and methods of construction.

PATENT LAW CASE IN DISTRICT COURT

Pennsylvania Man Claims Patents On Tungsten Filaments and Says Invalidations Would Cost Him Much.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., May 14.—What promises to become a celebrated case in patent law was tried in the District supreme court today, when Commissioner of Patents Moore was called to appear and show cause why he should not be enjoined from striking from the patent office files Tungsten filaments for use in incandescent lighting.

The complaint in the case is John G. Heany, an inventor of York, Pa., who was acquitted here last fall on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government by alternations and destruction of patent office records. Heany claims to have invented the Tungsten filaments and says invalidation of his patents will cost him a large amount of money. The commissioner had directed Heany, the Heany Company and the Heany Lamy Company to show cause why their application should not be stricken from the files. Heany claims that his acquittal in the criminal court showed that he had no connection with the alternations or falsifications involved. He contends that the commissioner of patents is without authority to entertain the charges as some of them form the basis of the indictments under which he was tried and acquitted.

TO DISTRIBUTE PEABODY MONEY

AFFAIRS OF BALTIMORE BANKER TO BE WOUND UP

SOUTHWESTERN SCHOOLS

And Institutions of Learning in South Will Receive Benefits Of Philanthropist's Legacy.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, May 14.—More than ordinary significance attaches to the annual meeting begun in this city today by the trustees of the Peabody Education Fund. When George Peabody, the banker-philanthropist of Baltimore and London, died in 1869 he left in trust to a self-perpetuating board of trustees a fund of about two and a half million dollars, "the income thereof to be used and applied in your discretion for the promotion and encouragement of intellectual, moral and industrial education among the youth of the most destitute portions of the Southern and Southwestern states of our Union, my intention being that the income intended shall be distributed among the entire population, without other distinction than their needs and the opportunities of usefulness to them."

Power was conferred by the deed of trust on the trustees to distribute the fund at the expiration of thirty years, which period ended in 1897. In January, 1905, the trustees decided, by a vote of 11 to 2, to dissolve the trust. As a step to this end the trustees offered the sum of $1,000,000 to the Peabody Normal College of Nashville, which has been the principal beneficiary of the fund, on the conditions that the institution change its name to "George Peabody College for Teachers," and the state of Tennessee should add $250,000, the City of Nashville $200,000 and Davidson County, in which Nashville is located, should give $100,000, making the total endowment $1,550,000. Several years were required to persuade the legislature of Tennessee and the common council of Nashville to comply with the conditions. The work was finally completed in a satisfactory manner several months ago, and nothing now remains but for the trustees to take the steps necessary to wind up the trust, which has been in existence forty-two years.

The Peabody trustees who have before them the task of winding up the affairs of the corporation include such eminent men as Chief Justice Fuller, J. Pierpont Morgan, Governor Itoke Smith of Georgia, Governor Amos of South Carolina, Ex-President Roosevelt, Joseph H. Choate, ex-Secretary Olney and Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts.

The story of the Peabody fund would not be complete without reference to the great philanthropist's rise to fortune. An American boy had a less hopeful outlook for future success than George Peabody, who was born in Danvers, Mass., Feb. 18, 1795. His parents were hard working, religious people, who could do little for their children but provide them with food and clothes until they were able to look out for themselves. George began to assume this responsibility when he was eleven years old.

Leaving his native town, he went to Post Mills, Vt., and worked there a year. On his return he earned a night's lodging at Concord, N. H., by sawing wood. The journey was made on foot. Half a century later he went over the same road, this time in a carriage, to Post Mills, and as a mark of his attachment for the place, presented it with a library.

In 1811 he became a clerk in his brother's store at Newport. The store was destroyed by fire and at the age of 16 young Peabody found himself an orphan, out of work and without money or influence. In May 1812, he sailed for Georgetown, near Washington, with an uncle, who went into business there, and took the lad in with him.

In 1814, at the age of 19, George Peabody went into partnership at Georgetown with Elisha Riggs, who provided the capital for the venture. The next year the business was removed to Baltimore, and branch houses were established in Philadelphia and New York.

Endowed with habits of thrift, George Peabody prospered. A modest fortune was amassed in a few years. In 1827 he went to London, and there established himself as a merchant and money broker. The last half of his life was spent in England, with occasional periods of residence in his native land.

His first benefaction of note was to his native town, in 1825, when Danvers celebrated its bi-centennial. He then gave it funds with which to establish a library, lyceum and Peabody institute.

In 1828 Mr. Peabody entered on the plan for his first great benefaction, the establishment of a fund for housing the poor of London. By 1866 this fund reached $2,500,000, entirely from his gifts. The fund now amounts to about $4,000,000 and many thousands of families have benefited from the wisdom of the great founder. For these benefactions Queen Victoria wished to make Mr. Peabody a baronet, but he declined the honor. He died in London Nov. 4, 1869, and his remains were brought to this country for burial.

"Jack" Ward, one of the Janesville ball players who was signed by an outside team because Janesville has not even a semi-professional city ball nine, threw his arm out in his second game with Sterling, Illinois on Wednesday and will be out of the game for some time. Sterling's manager is at an effort to find a man to take Ward's place in right field and according to newspaper reports from Sterling it will be hard to find a substitute until Ward is able to play again. The Sterling Gazette had the following to say of Ward in his first game with that team last Tuesday: "On first sack is Kutz, a cool, steady player, fast on his feet and a seemingly good place hitter. Another first macker is Ward who also proved his ability as a ball player Tuesday by holding down the sun garden with nonpareil and dispatch. Ward hit unusually well for the beginning of the season."

STILL SHOOTING, AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Wet Weather No Hindrance to Big Shoot of the Janesville Gun Club.

Despite the wet grounds and threatening clouds the second day of the third annual registered shoot of the Janesville Gun club was even more largely attended than yesterday. Competitors for the shooter's use and a canvas to prevent trouble from the rain not only added to the comfort of the guns, but also to the interest in the contests. Fred Hills of Chicago was high gun among the professionals yesterday, losing but four of the two hundred birds thrown. J. Graham of Long Lake and Kuss of Chicago were the two high guns tied for first place with nine down in two hundred among the amateurs. In all, thirty-eight "guns" took part yesterday and as many, if not more, today.

The following is a list of the men that shot the two hundred, and their scores. In the professional class: F. Hills 4, Stannard 7, Hirsch 16, Graham 13, Vietsmeyer 41. In the amateur class the following finished: W. McVear 19, Fred Wolf 21, Dossert 42, Brown 23, Pollard 25, Winter 11, Paversch 13, Echlin 33, Gibson 24, Nolan 18, Vance 25, Rothman 19, Flock 32, Wagner 24, Koller 50, Davis 40, J. Graham 9, Kuss 9, T. Graham 20, Dunnell 12.

In all, six thousand, six hundred and eighty-eight targets were thrown which is more than at any previous match at the local grounds. Antagonistic controversy and a large gallery watched the contests.

It is possible that another contest will be shot at Janesville in the near future. Ed. Bingham having deposited a hundred dollars to bind a match at a hundred targets with Bob Miller of West Allis, a noted shot. It will be remembered that a similar match was arranged between Miller and Bingham last fall but that Miller backed out. The conditions of the challenge call for the contest to be held in Janesville.

MEMORY MENDING

What Food Alone Can Do for the Memory.

The influence of food upon the brain and memory is so little understood that people are inclined to marvel at it. Take a person who has been living on improperly selected food and put him upon a scientific diet in which the food Grape-Nuts is largely used and the increase of mental power that follows is truly remarkable.

A Canadian who was sent to Colorado for his health illustrated this point in a most convincing manner: "One year ago I came from Canada a nervous wreck, as my physician said, and reduced in weight to almost skeleton and my memory was so poor that conversations had to be repeated that had taken place only a few hours before. I was unable to rest day or night for my nervous system was shattered."

"The change of climate helped me a little but it was soon seen that this was not all that I needed. I required the proper selection of food although I did not realize it until a friend recommended Grape-Nuts to me and I gave this food a thorough trial. Then I knew what the right food could do and I began to change in my feelings and bodily condition. "This kept up until now, after 6 months use of Grape-Nuts all my nervous trouble has entirely disappeared. I have gained in flesh all that I had lost and what is more wonderful I feel more than anything else my memory is as good as it ever was."

ASSUMED NAME WAS INCORRECTLY GIVEN

"Homer" Not "Hoover" Was Patron-
ymic Given by Edgerton Youth Who Was in Jail Here for a Time.

At Milton Junction on Monday afternoon, April 5, two Edgerton youths named McIntyre and Haylock got into trouble with the St. Paul and Northern Western train crews and a wedding party and under the assumed names of "Ed. Homer" and "George Clinton" were taken before Justice E. M. Holston. "Homer" was sentenced to spend 30 days in the county jail and pay $25 and costs for an assault on R. V. Lundy, and "Clinton" was to spend 30 days in jail and pay a fine of $15 for applying abusive epithets to a man named Fred Makar.

The Milton Junction correspondent of the Gazette wrote an account of the melee which was published in the issue of April 7, and in this narrative the correct names of McIntyre and Haylock were used. The two boys, however, were brought to the county jail and entered upon the docket there under their assumed names and the real identity of the parties was lost sight of.

Under the caption, "Edward Hoover is released on bail," the Gazette on April 10, published an article to the effect that Attorney C. L. MacKendall had taken an appeal to municipal court from the justice court sentence, and the error was due either to a mistake on someone's part in hastily reading the written word or a lapse of memory or a misunderstanding of sounds.

The assumed name was given correctly on April 22, when the Gazette, under the caption, "Wild West Fever Drings Disaster," published an account of the outcome of the appeal to municipal court, setting forth the fact that Edward Homer had paid a fine and costs of $40.00.

Now comes Edgar Hoover of Edgerton whose patronymic is similar but not identical with the incorrect assumed name used on the appeal, with a grievance against the Janesville papers, both of which fell into the wrong error. The Gazette makes the correction now and would have gladly done so long ago, had its attention been called to the fact that a purely accidental mistake in the transcription of an assumed name was in any way embarrassing anyone.

MRS. WALRATH CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT

Arguments Heard Yesterday in Union
House Bar Litigation—Decision
Is Expected Monday.

In circuit court late yesterday afternoon Judge Grimm heard the arguments of Atty. J. J. Cunningham and City Attorney H. L. MacKendall in the Walrath case. After the revocation of her saloon license, by Mrs. Margaret Walrath, landlady of the Union House, against the mayor and common council of Janesville to restrain them from enforcing their order vacating the said permit and to permit her to keep the bar open pending the hearing on a writ of certiorari calling for a review of the common council proceedings. The city attorney demurred to the complaint; (1) on the grounds that it did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; (2) that the court did not have jurisdiction; and (3) that no other writ was pending between the same parties for the same cause. The court took the case under advisement and will give a decision Monday morning. If the judge holds that the complaint is good, a motion will be made to have the temporary injunction issued by Court Commissioner Edwin F. Carpenter. The City Attorney feels sure of his ground by reason of the fact that when the common council some years ago revoked the saloon license of Alex. J. Clellan and the case was taken up to the supreme court, the high tribunal held that an injunction restraining an order of the council enforcing the revocation of a saloon license would not lie.

GIANTS WON FROM TIGERS IN CLOSE BASEBALL GAME

Giants Managed to Down Their Opponents But Got Clawed Up
in Doing So.

Yesterday afternoon at Athletic park, in a fast and close game the Giants' intermediate baseball team defeated the Tigers 6 to 5. The teams were very evenly matched and it was only in the last inning that the deciding scores were made. A home run by Green, with two on bases, changed the score from 5 to 5 to 6 to 5 and won the game for the Giants. The Tigers scored another run in the last inning, making the final score 8 to 6. Green, for the Giants, was about the only man who was able to locate the balls thrown by Owens, pitcher for the Giants. Seventeen were struck out by Owens before the end of the game. Campbell, an outfielder, did some very good work. Green's record for strikeouts was 3. Campbell was the other member of the Tigers' battery.

One week from tomorrow, a pitched team from the Intermediate league will cross bats with the second team of the Footville White Sox.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE WILL DO THE WORK

Chicago and North-Western
Two new through trains, one to Omaha called train No. 5, and the other called the Chicago-Portland Special, will be put on by the Chicago and North-Western Railroad, and the time of the famous Overland Limited will be changed on Sunday, May 16, 1909. The time for leaving Chicago on the Overland Limited will be 5 p. m. instead of 6 p. m. The time made between Chicago and Portland on the Chicago-Portland Special will be only 72 hours, a reduction of four hours and fifty minutes west-bound.

Fireman Louis Goodland returned to work on 531 and 541 today. R. K. Smith, who has been relieving him, is on the extra board.

Engineer S. O. Dudley was on the switch-engine last night.

Fireman Hackshaw went north on an extra to Fond du Lac this morning with Engineer Carman in place of Fireman Flanagan, who is laying off.

Engineers Findlay and Tucker and Fireman Schiller and Eggleston double-headed 685 up from Chicago last night with engines 859 and 217. The former is to be stored at the new yards and the latter is meant for service on the Madison Division. Both crews double-headed home on 510 this morning.

Engine 1017 on the second section of 504 gave up its train last night at the new yards on account of the left front truck spring-hanger being broken. Engine 177 took the train forward, while 1017 was repaired and went out in the place of 177 on 514 this morning.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Engineer Cornforth and Fireman Morgan had 131 and 165 this morning.

Engineer Hawthorne and Fireman Gray took 162 out this morning.

Fireman Rooney had Mahoney's place on D1 this morning with Engineer Meyer.

Engineer Kelley was on 21 this morning with Conductor Bradford.

An abbreviated special, loaded to the limit and going at the rate of forty miles an hour, was reported from Anderson yesterday afternoon and caused not a little worry at the Janesville station. It was learned afterward that the special was a passenger section-car with a number of officials on board for the purpose of testing the machine.

MILLIONAIRE COWBOY IN PRISON FOR SHOOTING AFFAIR.

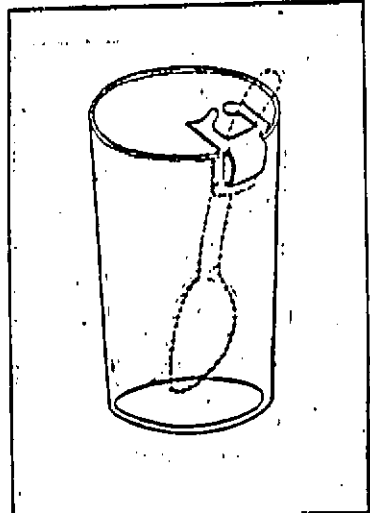

HAROLD SANBORN IN HIS WESTERN COSTUME, TAKEN ON A WESTERN RANCH, AND HIS MOTHER.

Vera, Cruz.—As a result of a fight for his life between Harold Sanborn and some Mexican peons, five Mexicans were killed and young Sanborn has given himself up to the authorities and is awaiting trial. Sanborn is some things for the ranch. An he passed to the door he was attacked by a Mexican peon, whom he recognized a some of the men recently discharged. Young Sanborn did not draw his weapon, but attempted to defend himself in the scuffle with the Mexican. He was getting the best of the argument when suddenly five or six others, all of whom had been previously employed on the ranch, stepped into the fray and young Sanborn, realizing the seriousness of the attack, drew both pistols and fired point blank, killing five of the Mexicans before they could return fire or run away. He immediately gave himself up to the authorities and was taken to Acapulco jail, near Vera, where he is now being held pending trial. His uncle is on hand and no effort will be spared to free the young man. This ought not to be difficult in view of the fact that he was undoubtedly defending himself. His mother, who now resides in Chicago, has been in constant telegraphic communication with Vera Cruz authorities, and while confident of the ultimate outcome, is considerably worried over the future should her son be freed, fearing the treacherous nature of the Mexican peons, who will seek revenge and may do so at a time when young Sanborn is unaware of it.

HANDY SPOONHOLDER

Fits on Edge of Glass and Keeps Spoon From Falling In.

Among the numerous minor inventions that seem trifling in themselves but add so much to the comfort of humanity is the open holder devised by a New York man. It is a simple little device, but is of great convenience for use on tall glasses, such as those used for tea, etc. The device consists of a piece of metal bent at the top to form two arms, with the opening between them just wide enough to admit the handle of a spoon, inserted sideways, and with the wide part just narrow enough to keep the handle of the spoon from slipping through. The lower part of the holder consists of a flat strip which runs down inside the glass and a spring clip on the back which goes outside the glass and clamps the whole firmly on. The spoon, when not in use, is hung on the holder and does not fall into the bottom of the glass. While the device fits on the edge of any receptacle, it is chiefly employed where the receptacle is deeper than the spoon is long.

Big Crops in the Northwest.

Four years ago the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were carved out of a vast area formerly known as the northwest territories. Their population at the time of their organization as provinces was probably about 70,000 for Alberta and 90,000 for Saskatchewan. The number today is somewhat problematical, but a guess of more than half a million for the two provinces is quite reasonable. Saskatchewan is now producing crops worth nearly $10,000,000, and Alberta, which is a cattle country rather than a crop country, values its harvest at $15,000,000.—New York Sun.

PERILS OF PEACE

In the whole country from all causes in 1908 the accidents totaled 500,000 persons, which is 500 regiments strong, and these victims of the perils of peace would be hours in passing a given point.

Devices which will diminish this awful line at least one-half are available. Models or photographs will be kept on view at the Museum of Safety and Sanitation in order that the employer may be able to inform himself how to reduce that line, save 250,000 men for earning efficiency and out litigation and damage expenses millions of dollars every year.

Wood and metal-working machinery; stamping, grinding and polishing machines; presses; cranes and hoisting machinery; transportation security by sea and land; safety lamps and explosives; quarrying, agricultural and chemical industries; safety from fire—all these will be represented. Also, there will be a section of sanitation, to include improved dwellings, first aid to the injured, prevention of industrial diseases; respirators and methods for supplying pure air and insuring health.

There are ten transatlantic museums of safety, where industrialists may go to learn how to avoid killing or maiming those who work in their shops, factories, mines, fields, railroads, buildings and ships. To these museums a man about to begin any kind of business may go to learn what appliances he needs to safeguard himself against enormous annual expenditures for "damages" and to protect his workmen from loss of life, limb or health while in his employ.

In America, the insurance interests estimate the annual loss to companies from preventable accidents to be $125,000,000. This does not include costs of defending suits at law, in which the person injured receives in judgments scarcely $500 on the average, of which his lawyer usually gets one-half.

One-half of $500 is a small sum for a wage-earner to receive for partial or total incapacitation for life. Many of these cases become a charge upon the general community. The owner of the mill or shop in which the hurt or utterly disadvantaged wage-earner has met disaster has to share this burden in his taxes, along with the costs he has shouldered in the litigation to determine the damage sustained, while the final award to the injured man or to the former employer is often unfair and unbusinesslike. The worker gets less, the employer pays more than he ought to.

THE INVESTIGATION

That Senatorial investigation has long since ceased to be a farce. It is a common nuisance. It can never do any real good beyond putting in circulation money which the taxpayers of the state have paid into the state treasury. The three men who constitute themselves judge, jury and prosecuting attorneys are only out for every man who voted or worked for the election of Isaac Stephenson for United States Senator. Their minds have become so warped with the one great idea—La Follette; and his doctrine—that they have blindly followed the call to duty to aid his winning campaign by bolstering up his coming campaign with a tissue of lies that they will call from favorable testimony they receive. It is a pitiable sight to see three state senators so filled with the one thought that they can see nothing else beyond their narrow horizon.

FINISH WITH A RUSH

It is safe to say that these hot days and warm nights will make some of those legislators a bit nervous. They will long for the cool of the forest stream, the song of the birds and the call to the good old-fashioned dinner horn. With these thoughts in their mind it is safe to say that they will hustle through the remaining work of the session so as to get back home as soon as possible. They feel they are needed at home and the long tedious session, with its telephone bills, its revision of the primary law, its university legislation, can all go to pot for what they care. Instead of the call of the wild it is the call of the home and the home associations. It is a badly aggravated case of genuine homesickness.

Madison is having a serious time with poker and gambling rooms. An epidemic of reform has struck the legislature and it was only by the narrowest margin that the members failed to pass a state law prohibiting gambling houses in the Capital city.

Baseball fans are most anxious to see their two favorite Chicago teams get a trifle further towards the front than they are. The Gazette scoreboards throughout the city are most anxiously watched each evening for the final scores in the day's games.

Tomorrow the public is invited to be present at the official opening of the Gazette's new office. It is hoped many will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing how a newspaper is actually conducted.

Evidently the retail liquor men begin to realize that Mayor Carlo meant what he said in his letter to them. It is about time that they understood there are limits to defying the law.

COURTESY AND CASH.

Can a young man succeed in business without cash capital?

Yes. One young man dealer in New York city is getting rich on a capital of PERSONAL COURTESY.

Where the tide of surging humanity rises highest on Broadway, near Trinity church, he keeps a successful newsstand.

His father came over in the steerage a few years ago. The son left school early to help support the family. He is a keen merchant.

This young man keeps a full stock of newspapers and periodicals and turns his cash every day—a possibility of profit shown by a news dealer in Carlisle, Pa., who died recently worth $100,000.

All sorts of people, millionaires as well as mechanics, buy of the young dealer. And always, even though the purchase be of 1 cent—always there is the sincere "Thank you."

He makes every sale, however small, a dignified business transaction. He is never too busy to be polite and attentive. And his open, frank courtesy makes one want to do more business with him.

His stand is in close touch with Wall street, and the brokers buy of him, but he gives just as much attention to the poor woman who buys a penny paper as he gives to Pierpont Morgan.

He is a gentleman and an American citizen who is engaged in an honest business. There is no snobbishness in him. He treats all alike.

Around his newsstand there converges perhaps more utter selfishness, more hardness of greed, more recklessness of hurry, than in any other locality in the world.

And there he stands in vivid contrast with all this forgetfulness of humane things. He is never too much in a hurry to be urbane and kind and gracious.

That is one reason why hundreds patronize him day after day. It is the instinctive hunger for kindness and courtesy.

The lesson to those who contemplate a business career or to those engaged in business is plain:

Courtesy costs nothing. But it yields big dividends. Combined with character, it forms the greatest capital known to the business world.

Now the thingamobles are slung in the what-you-call-'em trees, and there are suggestions vernal in the lumpy-doodle breeze, and the boys are wearing trousers that have BASE don't reach below their knees BALL—the game will soon be on! You may see the ball at evening by the joyous schoolboy fling, you may hear exclamations from the catcher's ardent tongue; and the grandest toll of triumphs when the game and they were young—the game will soon be on! All the boys are out for practice at the breaking of the dawn; they are marking out a diamond on the light of day is gone; there is racket on the campus, there is riot on the lawn—the game, will soon be on! Then away, away, with winter, and the throeome winter game! Throw the checkers through the window, and the basketball the same!

FIGURES THAT HURT

Turning the Tables.
 A correspondent sends to a Paris contemporary an amusing contest of wit which he recently heard in a railway carriage journeying between Compiegne and Reims. There were several passengers. One belovéd himself to possess a fund of humor which he intended to expend on a priest who got in at one of the intermediate stations. Hestowing a patronizing look on the clergyman he said: "Have you heard the news, monsieur le curé?" "No, my friend, I have not," was the reply. "I have been out all day and have not had time to glance at the papers." Then said the traveler, "It is something dreadful; the devil is dead." "Indeed," replied the ecclesiastic, without the smallest surprise or dejection. "Then, seemingly deeply touched, he added: 'Monsieur, I have always taken the greatest interest in orphans. Will you accept those two sons?' The wit, who are told, retired as gracefully and as quickly as he was able.

Do You Enjoy Fishing

Seems almost like a joke to ask, does it not? Relaxation from the cares of life comes easy to a man at the big end of a fishing rod. Little does he care for the worries that perplex him a couple of hours previous. Of course, good tackle is necessary to get Izak Walton satisfaction out of the sport. Woodruff Home to be Sold at Auction Tomorrow.

Never before have the people of Janesville been given an opportunity to buy such property as the H. S. Woodruff home at auction. We feel that we can safely say there is not another such beautiful spot for a home anywhere in this vicinity.

The natural lay of the land with its fine view of the city and miles of fertile country is magnificent in itself. Good drainage, good well water, pure air, shade trees and hedges, with a modern house and land enough for a garden, small pasture and a little hay land is all one needs for an ideal country home.

This property is likely to go to some resident of Janesville as we have had but one inquiry from Chicago since advertising this auction sale and that one party has not been here to look at the property.

No bids will be placed by the owners. We are willing so that we may settle the affairs of the estate of H. S. Woodruff.

AMERICANSHIP IN TURKISH WATERS

UNITED STATES REVENUE CUTTER TAKOMA, ARRIVES IN TURKISH WATERS.

NEW MASSACRE IS FEARED

Soldiers at Erzeroun Threaten to Slay If the Sheriat is Not Restored—Moslem Fanatics Again Attack Armenian Villages.

Alexandretta, Asiatic Turkey, May 14.—The United States revenue cutter Takoma arrived at this port for the protection of American interests. The Takoma is the first American ship to appear in Turkish waters since the beginning of the massacres and disorders in Asiatic Turkey.

Cologne, May 14.—The Koenigsche Zeitung published a dispatch from Saloniki saying that the Young Turk officers at Erzeroun, Asiatic Turkey, have sent a telegram to the local officers of the committee of union and progress declaring that their soldiers are refusing obedience and demanding the restoration of the Sheriat, and at the same time threatening a general massacre. The message begs Schuetli Pasha to send representatives to quiet the troops and the people, and concludes with the statement that the Young Turk officers do not dare to show themselves abroad.

Tell of Awful Slaughter.

Marash, Asiatic Turkey, May 14.—Distressing accounts continue to be received here from the country side of Armenian villages, assaulted by bands of Mohammedans, who, acting on the supposition that the Armenians were rising against the government, were quick to strike the first blow. The men were killed wherever found within range of knife or bullet. The girls were often maltreated, and some of them were carried off to become the wives or slaves of rich men.

Attorney General Bingham has received a letter from attorneys in Chicago representing several railroads asking if the state can issue a license for the sale of liquor on trains passing through "dry" counties.

Guards Master's Body.

Kewanee, Ill., May 14.—Guarded by his shepherd dog, which kept away a large drove of swine, the dead body of William Schneider, aged 66, a farmer of Owen township, was found by his son in the hog lot of his place. He left the house several hours before to shoot squirrels, and it is supposed he stumbled and the gun was accidentally discharged.

CRY OF THE TINY BABY GIRL BRINGS DOG AS PROTECTOR

Faithful Animal Appoints Itself Guard and Stays Near Child Until Poisoned.

Hammond, Ind., May 14.—Major, a large Newfoundland dog owned by Richard Kilborn of Crown Point, hearing the cry of a newly-born baby girl in the home of August Hildebrandt, constituted himself a guard for the child, and refused to return to his former master. Death by poison finally removed the faithful canine guard.

With an apparent determination to become the baby's protector, the dog took up a place on the front porch of the Hildebrandt house. August Hildebrandt came home to dinner and noticed the presence of the stranger. He made an effort to coax him away, but the dog did not move. Mr. Hildebrandt thought the dog would tire of his vigil and went into the house. When he came out he was surprised to find him still on the front porch. He remained there all night long and the next day Mr. Hildebrandt made an effort to drive him away. The dog was obstinate, however, and refused to move. Finally, out of pity, Mr. Hildebrandt gave him his dinner.

Day after day the dog made Mr. Hildebrandt's front porch his resting place. When the dog heard the baby's cry he picked up his ears and wagged his tail. The first time the baby was taken out of the house the dog followed it down the street. All efforts of Dick Kilborn to induce him to return home were unavailing.

Major was suddenly taken sick Wednesday, and it soon became apparent that he had been poisoned. Mr. Hildebrandt did all he could to relieve his suffering, but he fell dead in front of a store.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott.

May 16, 1909. (Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Paul's First Missionary Journey.—Iconium and Lystra. Acts xvi:28. Golden Text—All the gods of the nations are idols; but the Lord made the heavens. Psalm 96:5. Verses 1-2.—Point out on the map in your Bible where Iconium is situated. Can two missionaries working together do more good than they could working separately? Has the story of Jesus lost or gained in its charm upon the multitude, since that day? Was the unbelief of these Jews a matter of the intellect, through lack of evidence, or was it a matter of the heart; that is, a result of their rebellion against God? Verses 3-7.—How do you account for the fact, that the same evidence, and spiritual demonstration, which made one part of the multitude turn to God with gladness of heart, made the other part angry in heart, and murderous in their actions? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.) Would you judge from this story, that all the good people were on the side of the apostles, and all the bad and dishonest people on the other side? Will a wise and brave man sometimes run away from such danger as threatened the apostles, or will he always stay and face it? The apostles fled to Lystra and Derby; where are these places situated? Verses 8-14.—Is there ever any blame to be attached to those who are born with either physical or moral defects? Are parents ever to be blamed for either physical or moral defects in their children? Lesson for Sunday, May 23rd, 1909.—The Council at Jerusalem. Acts xv: 1-35.

WAR ON SOCIALISTS ASKED BY ORDER OF AMERICANS

Petition Which is Sent to Secretary Knox Requests Suppression by the Government.

Washington, May 14.—The state council of Pennsylvania, Order of Independent Americans, have petitioned Secretary of State Knox to investigate recent publications by socialists in the United States. The petition is supplemented by personal representations to Secretary Knox by those interested. Expressing the belief that the allegations warrant government interference, the petitioners ask that, if they be found true, steps be taken to suppress them and that all those engaged therein be adjudged guilty, whether it be of treason, insurrection or unlawful interference with the affairs of good government.

The petitioners call attention to allegations made in the publication referred to that in case of war between America and a foreign power the socialists are pledged to engage in anything which may terminate such a conflict, even to causing a general strike and insurrection against the government; that they are contributing towards the printing of literature to inflame people against our government; that they are trying to produce race hatred; that the mails are being used by the socialists with the hope that it will force our army and navy to mutiny, and advocating a powder and shot revolution; that immoral, obscene and debasing literature is being printed in socialist books; that an effort is being made to overthrow the churches of the country, and that they are trying to teach the young of our country "free love and polygamy."

Among other allegations are that the socialists are trying to make school teachers socialists so that they shall disseminate falsehoods among school children that in every war in which this country has engaged has been for commercial gain, and that Washington and other representative Americans were only great because they sought graft and personal honor.

Try Alleged Revolutionists.

Tombstone, Ariz., May 14.—The trial of Magon, Villareal and Rivera, the alleged revolutionists, started after securing a jury. The first witness for the prosecution was Ansel T. Samuels, who was employed as advertising collector on the Reconocion, the official paper of the Junta at St. Louis. His evidence was used to identify signatures of the accused to documents issued in the interest of the revolution.

Fear of Premature Burial.

The fear of premature burial, which prompted the late Lord Byron to direct by his will that his heart should be removed from his body, has caused many well-known men and women to order a surgical operation to be performed upon their bodies. Harriet Martineau left her doctor £10 to mutilate her head, and Lady Burton directed that her heart should be placed with a needle. The late Edmund Yates left instructions that his jugular vein should be severed, with a provision that a fee of 20 guineas should be paid for the purpose. Literary persons appear to have been particularly afraid of premature burial. Bishop Berkeley, Lord Lytton, Hans Andersen, and Wilkie Collins all took measures to protect themselves from it.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN FOREIGN COURTS.

At left, Mrs. W. W. Rockhill, wife of the newly appointed ambassador to Russia. At right, Mrs. Oscar E. Straun, wife of the newly appointed ambassador to Turkey. With the announcement of the appointment of Mr. W. W. Rockhill to the ambassadorship of Russia and Mr. Oscar E. Straun to the ambassadorship to Turkey, much interest centers in the wives who represent the social head of the American colony in these two places. Mrs. Rockhill has been with her husband in China during the past few years and has won continual praise from the Chinese with whom she has come in contact, and no doubt the court of St. Petersburg will find in her the same qualities to admire. Mrs. Straun has been in Turkey before and knows the country officially. At this time of strife and turmoil her position will be most unusual and will require the utmost diplomacy.

RIPPLES OF MIRTH

A HOT ONE.

First Boarder—My, that defender we were talking about yesterday has been given five years in the penitentiary.

Second Boarder—That is a bad out-look for a man.

First Boarder—Oh, not so bad. They give them good meals at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

NOW THEY DON'T MEEAL.

Miss Oldgirl—When papa came in the parlor last night he found me in Charles Smart's arms.

Miss Newgirl—I guess that accounts for what he said to my father this morning.

Miss Oldgirl—What did he say?

Miss Newgirl—He said Charles Smart had an old hand on young shoulders.

AND THE WIVES DO THE TALKING.

Tom—I don't see how these poor fellows get along that can't speak our language.

Harry—Oh, they marry women who can.

ADVICE NOT WANTED.

Wife—Don't you think you'd catch more fish up stream?

Wife—Ray, Ray, I don't need your advice. You're all right catching fellows, but when it comes to catching fish, you're out for cleanout.

HIS IDEA.

Mr. Askem—is your daughter really engaged to Louis de Broux?

Mr. Korn—Not exactly—but I have an option on him.

OF COURSE.

First Manager—Any good thing about that new drama you are producing?

Second Manager—Yes; the locker is a good thing.

STUPID MAID.

Mrs. De Style—Well, when I wasn't home didn't Mrs. De Smeat leave her card?

Mrs. De Style—Yes, she did, but I don't know where it is.

Mrs. De Style—Well, when I wasn't home didn't Mrs. De Smeat leave her card?

Mrs. De Style—Yes, she did, but I don't know where it is.

ROCKS AND ROCKS.

"He is said to be worth a good deal of money."

"I know that he has a rocky reputation."

OF A KIND.

De Quis—Bessie is a splendid fellow, isn't he?

De Wile—One of the best I ever escaped from.

KNOWS A THING OR TWO.

De Quis—Who is that well-looking fellow standing in the crowd?

De Wile—That is a spring poet.

De Quis—What? You mean to say a spring poet could make enough to wear such fine clothes and diamonds?

De Wile—Oh, yes. You see, this fellow writes poems advertising in glowing language the medicated spring at a big health resort.

Re-Soled in Fifty-Five Seconds.

A new kind of boot is about to be put on the market, the sole and heel of which, when worn out, can be unscrewed and new leather put in their place. The inventor claims that a pair of boots can be soled and heeled in 55 seconds, saving 25 per cent. on the cost of ordinary boot repairing.

EQUIPMENT BEST TO BE SECURED

FURNITURE ALL MANUFACTURED
EXPRESSLY FOR NEW OFFICES

EVERY DETAIL IS COMPLETE

Desks, Cabinets, Every Detail Perfect For Transacting the Business of the Office.

With the formal opening of the Gazette's new home to the inspection of the public on Saturday, many who have not had an opportunity of seeing a printing plant in actual operation, will be given the chance of watching all the departments at work.

When the change from the old location on North Main street was contemplated, F. M. Busch, of the Tubbs Manufacturing Company of Ludington, Michigan, came to inspect the plans and note the requirements for the new office. Floor plans for the placing of almost all of the machinery and material were made so that when the moving actually began everything went into its proper place without confusion.

In the business office, editorial

on the first floor. Here is found one of the most complete job departments in the southern part of the state. The newest design of type cabinets prevent any dust from reaching the type. On the southeast wall stands the battery of small presses
and paper cutting machine.

Waste trucks, ink tables, drying racks, mulling tables, stock cabinets and paper stock cabinets were all designed expressly for the needs of the Gazette and manufactured in order to meet the requirements of this important branch of the Company's work.

In the newspaper department on the basement floor is found a battery of three linotype machines of the latest model and design, all under the charge of an expert machinist who keeps them in repair. Six operators are employed, for day and night work. It is necessary to meet the demands of the business. On these the material for the newspaper is set and the work for the commercial printing department is handled.

A large specially constructed cabinet for the magazines, with a place for all supplies and a work bench for the chief machinist stands directly behind the three machines making everything quickly available and easily handled. The machines are run by electricity, each having its own motor.

Adjacent to the linotypes is the galley rack, where the metal set is rough plates into shape for mounting on wooden bases for use in the press.

Cabinets for this work with drawers for the storing of the material until used add to the completeness of the news department.

In the pressroom are found the two large commercial printing presses and the Duplex newspaper press, with a capacity of handling 5,500 eight-page papers an hour. The paper for this big press is run from huge rolls, weighing in the neighborhood of a half ton each, for the eight-page papers and less for the four or six page ones. The forms are laid on the bed and the press prints, folds, cuts, pastes and counts the papers ready for the carriers and mailing department.

Ink cabinets, special closets for the rollers, make ready tables for the printing department, racks for drying
the completed work, all add to the efficiency of the department and make the amount of work handled much more convenient than hitherto.

In the mailing room is found a large specially constructed mailing table, fifteen feet long, with facilities for handling and counting the papers for both carriers and mail routes. The newsboys themselves have a room for their own which will later be fitted up for their convenience and pleasure
while waiting for their bundles.

A large paper balling machine takes care of all waste and scrap paper baling it into huge bundles, a ton or so being sold. There is also storage room for a car load of paper adjacent to the presses where it can be handled easily. It is also in this, each size being kept separate. This is the stock for the newspaper only.

Lockers for the men employed in the press room and news room, with large wash basins, a furnace room, where a large boiler heats the entire building, lighted by gas throughout,
with prism glass in the windows which
make the rooms as light as possible,
complete the equipment of the lower floor.

The building itself is a hundred fifty feet. The Gazette occupies the first floor and basement giving ten thousand square feet of floor space in all the departments. Gas is used for lighting the offices, but over some dark connections have been made for electric lamps which will be used during the rush times when the majority of the force works night and day shifts.

MISS WHALEY WEDDED TO THOMAS FRUSHER

Pretty Ceremony United Two Popular
Young People of Suburban Districts Performed Wednesday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Mount Pleasant, May 13.—Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at St.
Ann's Catholic church in Stoughton, Miss Hulda Whaley was united in marriage to Thomas Frusher of Forter. The ceremony was performed by Father McCarthy and was attended only by relatives and intimate friends.
Miss Anna Whaley, a sister of the bride, attended her and William Frusher,
a brother of the groom, acted as best man. The church was very prettily decorated with carnations and lilies. The bride was attired in a handsome brown suit.

After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Whaley, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Mr.
and Mrs. Frusher will reside on the groom's farm in the town of Porter.

On Lookout for Runaways: Chief Appley has received a communication from the authorities at Madison asking that a sharp lookout be maintained there for seventeen-year-old John Conlin, and fourteen-year-old Louise Fritz, dark complexioned and wearing a gray coat, black skirt, and white waist with dark spots. The pair ran away Monday evening.

BIT OF HISTORY OF ITS LONG CAREER AS A DAILY PAPER

First Edition of The Gazette Was Published in August of 1845 by Levi Alden.

On the 11th day of August, 1845,
the first number of the Janesville Gazette was published by Levi Alden and E. A. Stoddard. The facilities for handling the news and printing the paper were meagre. Janesville was a frontier town. A struggling village. Mr. Alden had come from the east bringing with him an old fashioned hand press. By good hard work two hundred and forty papers could be printed in an hour and this meant extra labor and lots of muscle.

Mr. Stoddard soon retired from the paper selling his interest to W. F.
Tompkins. The first office was in

H. F. BLISS, PRESIDENT OF THE GAZETTE PRINTING COMPANY

The second story of the block that stood where the People's Drug Company and Rock County bank now are located. In 1846 Tompkins tired of the work and sold to Mr. Alden, who became sole proprietor for a time, later associating W. H. Gratton with him in the business.

During this period Bliss Doty was foreman of the news room. Later Stoddard, O. P. Martin and then Charles Holt. In 1848 Holt bought a half interest from Mr. Alden and the firm name was changed to Alden & Holt and the office moved from its old quarters to the Empire block over what is now Sutherland's book store.

Meanwhile the old hand press was used and it was not until 1859 that a different one was secured through purchase of the Free Press when a Gossney was obtained. With this press five hundred papers an hour could be printed. The location of the shop was also moved, this time crossing the river to the building where Herbert Holmes store now is. They remained here but a short time however returning to the east side of the stream in the Lagoon block, where the Holt block stands.

Previous to this the paper had been a morning sheet but now the change was made and it became an evening paper. While in politics since its foundation; it became republican in 1854
when about party was formed and has never changed its politics.

About this time Mr. Wilcox became a member of the firm which was known as Holt, Bowen and Wilcox.
Mr. Alden having retired. In 1861 Thompson and Roberts purchased the paper and it was during their ownership that the establishment was moved to North Main street, in the Holdrege block where it remained until moved to its present home in the Bostwick building.

change, a two revolution cylinder Taylor. Rumor has it that this press was built for the Philadelphia Ledger,
also saw service on the Detroit Free Press before coming to Janesville.
How be it, it proved a good investment and was used for many years in publishing the Gazette.

In the early 70's, Colvin & Bluff became the owners continuing the same policy as previously. In 1883
H. F. Bliss and William Madison, par-chased of H. L. Colvin the controlling interest in the paper. Nicholas Smith was at that time a stockholder and editor, retiring about 1890. J. C.
Whitcomb and J. G. Hayner became stock holders at this time. In 1894
Mr. Madison retired from the company.
H. F. Noelen became a stock holder and secretary in 1898.

The old Taylor press gave way in 1882 to a Corbitt which was later displaced by a Disputch press, this in turn being replaced by a Duplex press
in the fall of 1902.

The organization of the Gazette
Printing Company, at present, includes
H. F. Bliss, President and Treasurer;
C. F. Bliss Vice President and H. H.
Bliss Secretary. The work is divided into different departments, each department having its own head.

LATEST DEVICES TO FACILITATE LABOR

Most Modern Methods of Labor Saving Devices Found in The Gazette Office.

Every facility for increasing the efficiency of the thirty odd employees of the Gazette, by means of labor saving devices, is to be found in the new office. The Business, Editorial rooms and Commercial Printing Department are connected by both the Wisconsin and the Rock county telephones. The Business office and Commercial printing department, being on one trunk line service of the Rock County company while the Editorial room has a special phone, No. 62, which can be connected with the business office by a switch board.

Inside department telephones save many steps in handling the work of the day. Business office, managers, desk, editorial rooms, library, commercial printing department, foreman
news room, chief linotype operator, press room and mailing room all being connected by this system.

A pneumatic chute for sending the copy from both business and editorial rooms does away with the old open box system, or copy boy and quickly puts the copy in the hands of type setter or machine operator.

To print the paper over one hundred and twenty tons of paper are used in a year, to pay for the news service it takes $300 per month and to pay for the services of the employees
some thirty thousand dollars a year is needed.

The Gazette's circulation is growing almost daily. The paper reaches nearly every home in the city. It is found in the mail bags of the rural carriers on every route in the county and many in Green and Dane. It is read each evening in Edgerton, Evansville, Milto, Clinton, Brodhead, Os-fordville, and other larger cities and villages of the county and vicinity.

The new home of the paper was designed especially for its use by F.
H. Kemp of Detroit, for J. M. Bostwick & Sons. Prism glasses light the basement, even on the darkest days so that artificial light is not needed.
The same method is employed on the upper tier of glass in the business and editorial rooms adding to the natural light otherwise obtained through the large windows.

In 1883 the Gazette was a four paged daily with a circulation of six hundred subscribers. Its equipment consisted of an old time two revolution cylinder, a pony job press and two small Gordon presses. The daily paper was folded by hand by the carrier boys before they left the office.
The material was all hand set in those days.

Today the combined circulation is over 4500, the press is one of the latest style Duplex, manufactured in Battle Creek, Michigan, three Merges-thaler linotypes, the latest No. 5 interchangeable magazine, a double magazine machine and a regular newspaper linotype, take the place of the hand set composition and the big newspaper press cuts and folds the papers as well as prints them.

To care for the outside advertising business, A. W. Allen with offices in the Tribune building, Chicago and M.
C. Watson of 34 W. 33rd St., New York City, are special representatives. In the advertising field the Gazette has the reputation of being one of the big

FIFTH AVENUE RESIDENTS AGREE TO COMPROMISE

Width of Street Will Be Established
at 38 Feet—Compulsory Street
Sprinkling Urged.

Fifth avenue property-holders, at a meeting held last evening, agreed to a compromise whereby the width of that thoroughfare shall be established at 38 feet.

At the instance of a number of the business men, a petition will probably be filed with the common council asking for the passage of an ordinance making street sprinkling in the business district compulsory and providing that the expense thereof be met by a special assessment on abutting property.

Fall And Broke Wrist: While
hanging pictures in her home on North First street, next to St. Mary's church, Miss Rosetta Knae fell and fractured a wrist. Dr. George Fifield is attending her.

To add to this service the news of Rock county and the adjacent cities
is cared for by special correspondents,
Holt, Edgerton, Evansville, Milton, Orfordville, Clinton, all have special people looking for news of daily interest to the readers of the paper, while Monroe and Brodhead are also cared for by daily letters.

The country districts are cared for by mail, letters which come in either semi-weekly or weekly, in both Rock and Green Counties; frequent use of the telephone by those correspondents gives us almost daily communication with them.

The Gazette is also a member of the North American Press Syndicate

ceives daily consignments of matrices to be used to illustrate the news of the day. The cartoon service is made by special artists employed by a Baltimore syndicate. From the North American syndicate the Gazette receives many of its illustrated news stories written by capable news men, copyrighted stories.

IS YOUR HAIR GRAY?

We recommend Wyeth's Sago and Sulphur Hair Restorer. One of the principal ingredients is sago, known to be a scalp tonic and color restorer of well known merit. In fact, everything entering into the composition of this great hair restorer combines to make it an ideal preparation for preserving and restoring the natural color of the hair, for removing dandruff, for stopping hair falling, and for making the hair grow.

Association and the Kollogg Syndicate also furnish special features, the illustrated jokes coming from Hathi-more and St. Louis syndicates which handle this department exclusively for some of the largest papers of the country.

With these facilities for the special work comes the force who gather the news of the city. Regular beats and assignments are given the men in the news room each day and special feature work on local subject adds to the interest of the local columns.

It is not always a question of how to get the copy for the paper but how to get all the copy that is at hand printed and ready for the paper when it starts at four o'clock. Back of the actual time of the starting of the big press are hours of hard work.

In this day of a multiplicity of happer, both in the editorial and mechanical departments. But it is no less so here than elsewhere, in no act of life is it true that the finished product appears as by a wizard's touch. Behind it there lie hours of hard work, of mental struggle and nerve force, of untiring toil, days of striving and years of study. The finished paper coming from the press is only an illustration of a universal truth.

Sometimes it seems as if there were a flood into the office in the afternoon a multitude of "stories" each with its own human interest, each worth a prominent place. At other times the news all seems commonplace and uninteresting. How to give each from its own relative importance is another ever present problem.

But when the "copy" has been prepared for the compositor the newspaperman's troubles have but just begun.

With equipment splendid but necessarily limited in the amount of work it can turn out, with accidents to the typesetting or other machines apt to occur at any moment—and it always seems that they take place just when you need them most—with the "hook" full of "good stuff," none of which you want to leave out and all of which it seems impossible to "get up" in time to catch the mail and prevent the complaints of late deliveries, with all these So the man who watches the papers coming from a press so easily can get very little idea of what nerve energy has been put into the making of that

All in a Green Mantle. Nature, waking at the song of wood and bird as only she can weave or wear. Down by the margin of Toiga, where she murmured through a vale of awakening leaves and reflected asphodels bending above her brink, the valley was born again in a very pagan of golden green that dappled all the gray woods, clothed branches and boughs in snow, ran flower-footed over the meadow, hid nests of happy birds in every dell and dingle and spread luxuriant life above the rule of the year that was gone.—Eden Philpotts, "The Children of the Mist."

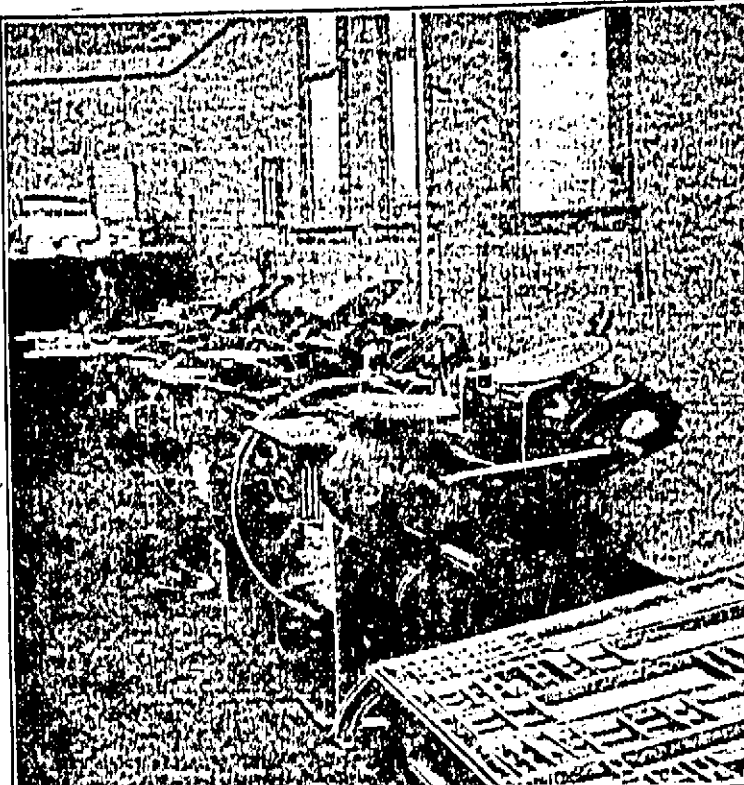

Not a Newsworthy. Much that we think essential is merely a matter of habit.—Thomas Wentworth Higginson.

Do a Thing and Don't Talk. Just do a thing, and don't talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion; discussion means irritation; irritation means opposition, and opposition means hindrance always, whether you are right or wrong.—Sarah Grand.

Make the Most of Everything. A man who knows the world will not only make the most of everything he does know, but of many things he does not know, and will gain more credit by his adroit mode of hiding ignorance than the pedant by his awkward attempt to exhibit his erudition.—Colton.
